

WE NOMINATE

Grace Gurisic, the newly elected member of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders and the youngest Freeholder any one in New Jersey can remember a week after Election Day, who at the advanced age of 25 is making a habit of making history—at least political history in Central New Jersey! A scant four years after reaching voting-age Miss Gurisic has scored four successive victories at the polls and each time “out” (an accepted term of “political-ese” connoting an election campaign) has moved up a notch, from County Committeewoman to Borough Council, from Council to Mayor and now to county-wide office.

Her triumph last week, by a margin of 21,353 votes to 20,644, possibly attracted as much post-mortem attention as any single election in New Jersey not only because she upended a heavily favored Republican veteran but primarily because she became the first woman ever to be elected to the Somerset County Board. Her 75-year old opponent, who won his first election eight years before Miss Gurisic was born, had apparently forgotten that in the fall of 1958 she had earned front-page billing as Somerset County's first lady mayor—Democratic head of the mostly Republican Borough of Rocky Hill.

As one observer noted: “Miss Gurisic's victory was no political fluke. It was fashioned out of hard-headed practical politics in a county that, with the exception of Miss Gurisic, went solidly Republican.” Immediately after last April's primary she gave up her studies at Rider College and started campaigning. She estimates that she drove 9,000 miles in the county and rang 5,000 doorbells and recalls that “I spent from 10 minutes to two hours talking to each person I met, telling them to return county government to themselves.”

A tremendously energetic person with a passion for work, Miss Gurisic, following her graduation from Princeton High School with the Class of 1952, divided her work-week for almost five years between Educational Testing Service and weekend duty in Princeton Hospital's Admission Office. In 1955 she branched into politics, running for Democratic County Committeewoman in Somerset. The following year she rang up her first notable “first” by winning a seat on the Rocky Hill Council, the post she relinquished in order to accept a two-year term, effective last New Year's Day, as Rocky Hill's chief executive.

This coming January 1st, when she officially takes county office, she will continue to serve as Rocky Hill's unsalaried mayor but will resign her job as administrative assistant in Trenton's McKinley Hospital. Inasmuch as she intends to work full-time as a $6,000-a-year Freeholder (she effectively campaigned against the proposal to jump the Freeholders' annual salary to $9,000), she will also find it necessary to forego her studies in business administration at Rider and “probably to postpone” the evening courses she has been carrying at Rutgers in the general area of public administration.

For understanding the basic law of American politics: “nothing is impossible if it's done by the people”; for demonstrating beyond reasonable doubt that this country could well become a full-fledged matriarchy; for giving her contemporaries, and those even younger than herself, new insights into public elective office; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

BIG DAY AT HAND

Nothing Quite Like Yale Game. The longest uninterrupted rivalry in collegiate football will have its 82d chapter written Saturday before a packed house in Palmer Stadium. Some 46,000 who have already purchased tickets will crowd their way into the sprawling concrete horseshoe to watch renewal of a drama that, for most Princetonians still holds more appeal than any other gridiron rivalry, even when an Ivy League title is at stake.

Possibly because so many alumni and townspeople saw a Yale game at an early age as their introduction to gridiron melodrama, each succeeding contest bears promise of topflight action that will be the richer because of the memories it stirs. Often productive of extremely good college football—even when the teams involved have not managed to compile standout records for a particular season—the rivalry is unique for the stunning upsets it has recorded and for the ability of the vanquished to rebound a scant 12 months after it had undergone what the trade calls a "royal shallicking."

The big "swings" from under dog to top dog are illustrated by such years as 1931-32-33, when Princeton in turn was beaten by the largest score in the series (51-14), battled back a year later under newcomer Fritz Crisler to a 7-7 tie and the following fall trounced the once rampant Bulldogs, 27 to 2. In 1935, Yale was again soundly beaten, 38-7, only to upend its arch rival a year later, 26-23.

Princeton lost, 26-0, in a torrential downpour in 1937, the famed Clint Frank scoring all four touchdowns, but bumped to a 12-12 victory the following season. In the first normal fall after the war, Yale's veteran — studded team whaled the Tigers, 50 to 2, only to fall victim to a 17-0 upset in 1947 as the late Charlie Caldwell launched his unprecedented string of six consecutive victories over the Blue—a feat likely to remain unequalled in Big Three rivalry for years to come.

On the eve of this 82d meeting between the two teams, Yale has good reason to believe that it will face Princeton on equal terms, despite the fact that most of its players were victims of the 50-to-14 rout which the men of Nassau staged last November at New Haven. If the Blue demonstrates sufficient resilience to win, renewed proof will be given that neither participant in this traditional rivalry remains down for a long count.

Although a far cry from the "20's", when more than a score of special trains jammed the Pennsylvania's once a populated lower yards, seven specials totaling 104 cars will arrive here Saturday morning from such points as New York, New Haven, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. Thousands more heading for the game will come by car—with the reconstructed traffic circle at Penns Neck, not yet ready for normal traffic flow, likely to cause major tie-ups.

Hotel, motel, boarding house accommodations and many private homes will be taxed to capacity. Adding attraction to the weekend for undergraduates and their dates will be the presence of two top name bands at the "Princeton-Tiger" dance, Meyer Davis and Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong.

Only five times in a decade, a dozen times in a quarter-century, does a Yale-Princeton game dominate this community as only the pleasurable excitement of football can in a college town. A minor, fleeting bit of Americana, but always a welcome occasion.

ISSUE STILL ALIVE

Who's Coroner? The post of Mercer County Coroner, vacant since 1938, was filled by last week's elections—or so it seemed for a time—when two Princeton residents and a Trentonian drew more write-in votes than anyone in the county. The Trenton resident received one vote. So did one of the Princetonians. The third amassed a total of 30. Melvin Tumin, 110 Prospect, sociologist at Princeton University, received the 30 write-in votes. Walter Murphy, 48 Murray Place, political scientist at the University got one vote, and so did Zygmunt Zegarski, Trenton bartender.

Counties are required to provide for the election of three coroners and there is always write-in space on the ballot, even though no party ever nominates a candidate for the office. Freeholders have turned over the coroner's duties

All sorts of folks may come by your door these days, selling anything from vitamins to hormones, "cures" for anything from pernicious anemia to hypertension. to the county physician and his five deputies, the coroner's offices have become merely honorary.

Mr. Tumlin will probably be sworn in this Thursday, but the status of Mr. Murphy is still in doubt. (Mr. Zegarski has told County Freeholders that he isn't interested.)

Ready to assume office, Mr. Murphy was informed on Tuesday by William H. Fawcett, Mercer County clerk, that the election had been declared a tie and that the office was vacant once more. Mr. Murphy, puzzled by this interpretation of the election results, has written to the clerk for a fuller explanation.

Mr. Tumlin launched his campaign for Coroner because he felt that a public office sufficiently important to appear on the ballot was important enough to be sought by candidates. Mr. Tumlin plans to investigate state and county law concerning the office of coroner, and to find out how many other New Jersey counties follow the example of Mercer.

MAY BAN PARKING

On Lower Bayard Lane, A resolution banning parking on both sides of Bayard Lane from the Borough line north 1500 feet to the bend in Route 206 was passed by Township Committee Monday night at the request of the State Highway Department.

Following the receipt of this resolution, the state will make a detailed study of the Bayard-Mountain Avenue - 206 complex, perhaps with the idea of widening the highway as it bends north from Bayard Lane.

In response to a petition from residents of the area, Township Committee received permission from the state to erect a "School" sign and to paint additional markings on the road. Some commercial signs have also been removed at Township request so that visibility has been improved.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE

On B. L. Gulick Property, Fire which started in the kitchen gutted a small, single-story frame house at 1081 Princeton-Kingston Road Tuesday night.

The building stands on the B. L. Gulick farm and the tenants were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright Jr. The Wrights were away when the blaze was discovered by a neighbor shortly after 10:30 p. m. The fire had gained such headway that it was not possible to save any of the furnishings. All three volunteer fire companies answered the alarm, second in Princeton Township in seven hours. Special Gift workers, shooting for $100,000 from 425 persons, have obtained $36,276 from 272 contributors. Last year, the Research Division raised $26,000 and large returns are expected from this division again. The first complete report shows Applied Science Corporation with $735 from 183 employers, a 48 percent increase over last year with twice as many employees contributing.

John M. Reeder, General Chairman of the Drive, has scheduled a meeting for this Friday with chairman of the Business Division, whose drive is moving very slowly, according to Mr. Reeder.

PERSONALITIES

Miss M. A. Chambers, 25 Railroad Avenue, Hopewell, for many years proprietor of a children's shop in Princeton and now in Hopewell, Miss Chambers contributed to this year's Needlework Guild drive in Princeton over 200 garments—almost 10 percent of the record number collected. She has given to the drive since 1923. For additional information, see picture page 17.

Samuel F. Bianco, 568 Ewing Street, who has been made probationary patrolman on the Township police force, effective December 1, Mr. Bianco's appointment, which brings the Township complement to 46, will permit the municipality's radio communications system to be manned on a 24-hour basis, starting January 1. COUNCIL AT STRENGTH

Walker Inducted. A week (precisely to the hour) after he had been elected to his first public office William H. Walker 2d, successful Republican candidate in last week's election, was officially inducted as a member of Borough Council, filling the vacancy created last spring by the resignation of Republican Maurice A. Mather and raising the Council to its normal six-member strength.

As his first official public act, following his landslide re-election, Democratic Mayor Male administered the oath of office to the former President of the Borough Board of Health, commenting "I am sure Krushchey never would understand this." Walker for the balance of the calendar year was appointed to the Borough's Finance and Public Safety Committees.

Two Ordinances. Tuesday evening's session, highlighted for the first time this year by a reasonable degree of levity, placed on the books two laws that produced little more than conversational ripples: the "Moving Ordinance", providing "for the Collection of Personal Property Taxes", and an ordinance permitting the Fire Department to draw members from the Township as well as the Borough.

The former produced a split 4-1 decision, with Council President Coyle once again dissenting and maintaining that the requirement of "moving permits" (issued to individual or concern moving out of the Borough, not to the protest of any mover) represents an "overdose of too much government." In introducing the ordinance, Finance Chairman Lester emphasized that personal property tax losses attributable to those moving approximated $1,600 in 1958.

Fire Department. The amendment to the Fire Department Ordinance, enacted in its present form in 1929, enables the three Fire Companies to reach across municipal lines in the election of new members, specifying among other basic requirements that a member must be "a resident of the Borough of Princeton or the Township of Princeton."

From the floor during the abbreviated public discussion of the proposal, which sailed through by unanimous vote of Council (with Mayor again abstaining), came the report from Fire Chief Walter Coan that the measure had earned the blessing of Engine Company No. 1 and Hook and Ladder, but had been opposed by Engine Company No. 3. The Department's Board of Engineers had previously agreed that it would approve if two of the three companies expressed agreement.

Recreation. A six-member Advisory Committee on Recreation, which will work closely with its counterpart in the Township, was brought into being by Mayor Male. The committee, strongly advocated by Councilman Colman as chairman of the Borough Committee on Health, Recreation and Welfare, includes: Alan W. Car-

BEHIND THE SMOKE, THERE'S FIRE: A general alarm fire Tuesday afternoon at the home of Thomas H. Moran, 549 Jefferson Road, destroyed the entire second story and caused considerable water damage to the first floor. Mr. Moran, architect who designed St. Paul's church, lost about $6,000 worth of blueprints and approximately $3,000 worth of architect's overlays. The family managed to salvage a boat which they moved from garage to yard, their silverware and some furniture but an organ was badly damaged. Mrs. Moran discovered the fire in an unoccupied second floor bedroom used for clothes storage. She tried to phone police but found that her telephone was out of order so she called a neighbor who placed the call for her. The fire, reported at 3:20, was extinguished by 5:10 p.m.

rick, Prospect Avenue and Cedar Lane; Lawrence F. Ferrara Jr., Jefferson Road; Mrs. Simeon Hutter, 28 Hibern Road; George W. Loos, 10 Dickinson Street; Alvin Peter J. McCrohan, 228 Hamilton Avenue; and Thomas Moore, 19 Green Street.

SCHOOL SITE SOUGHT

On Community Gardens Land. The Township Board of Education has asked the Princeton Community Park Foundation to make available eight acres of its 50-acre Community Garden tract as a site for a new elementary school. The Foundation recently announced its intention to give the land to the Township for recreational purposes.

The board's proposal was made by William L. Wilson, president in a letter to Albridge C. Smith 3d, secretary of the Foundation. Mr. Wilson asked for eight acres fronting on Witherspoon Street in the vicinity of Township Hall. He proposes to build a school to house classes from kindergarten through sixth grade.

"Valley Road school, with its standard gymnasium, shop facilities, full-scale library, etc., is the logical building to accommodate the (seventh and eighth) grades, which need all these facilities," Mr. Wilson said. "It would be very wasteful to reproduce these expensive facilities in other buildings and we have not done this."

"Therefore, as the number of children in the upper grades increases, which now is occurring at an accelerated pace, the need for more seventh and eighth grade classrooms is forcing the lower grades out of Valley Road. In the near future, there will be no more space in Valley Road for the lower grades."

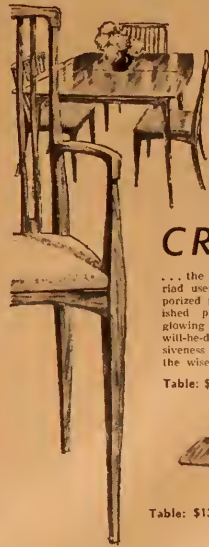

Tentative Program. Mr. Wilson made the following "tentative" proposals for the construction of the new school and the use of the land.

• The school should be built in 1961 and should have facilities for 350 children. This would call for a building "slightly larger than either the new Riverside or Johnson Park schools."

• "There should be adequate space on the site to allow expansion in due time to a school of approximately 22 classrooms, the size of Littlebrook School."

● Space should be provided for the superintendent's office and board room, which would allow the board to dispose of the present "remote, inconvenient and extensive" facilities in the Stony Brook Building.

● While the board would be prepared to own recreational space on the site for a playground, "it would prefer" to use a portion of the public recreational space for this purpose. "In either case," the president said, "the board's building could be so designed as to augment the recreational usefulness of the remainder of the tract" by providing public facilities, utility services and shelter. Eight acres would be sufficient for such a "building-only project," board would require an additional seven acres if it were to provide its own playground.

Discussion Asked. Mr. Wilson told Mr. Smith that the board was presenting its tentative program "purely to inform you of the public considerations involved and the pressing needs we foresee. We should be glad to accommodate our proposals to those of your body, and we look forward to constructive public study and discussion of the Community Gardens project in the best interests of the entire Princeton community. Our Sites Committee, of which Mr. Leonard Myerling is chairman, and the entire board are at your disposal for further discussions."

In making his original proposal to transfer the land to the Township, Mr. Smith said it was hoped that half the tract could be developed for public recreational use by the summer of 1961. He pointed out that the trustees, in negotiating for the transfer, would keep in mind the desire of the original donors that the land be used for recreational purposes. The tract was given to the Foundation in 1943.

ORDINANCE TABLED

Township Committee to Consider. After a lengthy open hearing Monday night in which many Laurel residents expressed their vehement opposition to the extension of the road, Township Committee voted to table the ordinance in question for further consideration. The measure would provide for the extension of Laurel Road north from Mangrove Road through Laurel Circle, with sidewalks on both sides.

Hyman Battle, 184 Mangrove Road, presenting a petition of opposition signed by 26 residents of the area, asked Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, "Who asked for this road?" Edmund Cook's Holder Corporation has plans to develop two lots on the east side of Laurel near Mangrove, and many residents thought Mr. Cook had asked for the extension of the road.

"It was the Planning Board's recommendation," Mr. Fairman said. "This road has been on the Township map since 1924 and its construction has been a long-term conclusion. The only question has been when."

Mr. Fairman said that the Planning Board, in working out the Master Plan, decided it would be best to put the whole road through now, because the area would be developed in a few years.

John L. Childs, 181 Laurel Circle, said he had been told when he bought his lot from Harold Pearson, in August, 1955, that the turnaround called Laurel Circle was permanent. "It has never been anything but temporary," Mr. Fairman commented.

David H. McAlpin, Jr., 190 Laurel Circle, also said that he had bought his house because he understood that it would be on a permanent dead-end.

Objections to the road came chiefly from residents who regard it as a traffic hazard for their children, and Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, 206 Laurel Circle, said "Children come to play on our circle because it's the only haven they have." The question of as-

—DANIEL FAN

Football fans in these parts are ready for anything after experiencing three of the worst Saturdays within memory. Would the capacity crowd of 46,000 expected for this weekend's action in Palmer Stadium get another snaking? The Weather Man thought not, although he refused to make a firm promise. Thursday night could bring some rain, he said, but clearing, cooler weather is the outlook thereafter through Sunday.

weather was also raised and Mr. Fairman pointed out that this matter is solely up to the Board of Improvement Assessors and that "we must trust them."

State Law Quoted. Mr. Battle read to the Committee part of the revised statutes of New Jersey in which a municipality is prohibited from building a road over the objection of its residents unless a "public necessity exists."

"That word isn't convenient," Mr. Battle said. "It's necessary," and I don't think this road is a necessity to the community."

Mr. Fairman pointed out that the area would be built up in five or ten years and that the Planning Board wanted to put the road through before that day arrived and not after.

"I say it's wait five or ten years," Mr. Battle retorted, "and gain that much more time for our kids to live in safety."

Previously, Township Committee held a somewhat calmer public hearing on the ordinance to put through Tyson Lane, a missing link which would provide on unbroken road from Witherspoon east to Shady Brook and the Kingston Road. No action was taken.

Committee also passed an ordinance providing $4500 for preparation of a sewer master plan by Eng. Seifert and Joel of New—Continued on Page 9

MARK TWAIN TONIGHT!

At McCarter. About five minutes after Hal Holbrook appears on the stage, he ceases to exist altogether and Sam Clemens takes over, dominating the proceedings for two and one-half hours with wit, chicanery, pantomime, half-cocked philosophy and cigar smoke.

Most of the audience at McCarter Saturday night had read about Mr. Holbrook's three-hour stint at the make-up table, but few were prepared for the total transformation, which includes not only the obvious tricks of make-up, but the actual transformation of the body as well: the stiff elderly, slightly arthritic shuffle, the hump between the shoulders, the fingers closing and opening as they hang by the side, and the 70-year-old voice that thunders and whispers and cracks with age.

One suspects that Mr. Holbrook is actually better than Mr. Clemens ever was. For one thing, he is talented enough to make his voice old, but young enough to have the power to make it reach, and in "The Ghost Story" and "Huck and Jim" he sent it echoing through McCarter. (at other times, however, he was somewhat difficult to understand, even from the front of the orchestra; this seemed to stem from his complete mastery of sturred, once-Missouri speech).

Like Clemens, Mr. Holbrook has an intuitive sense of timing, honed by his practiced skill as an actor. Leaning against a lectern or shuffling across the stage to light his fifth cigar at the evening, Mr. Holbrook will tell a story. Between puffs and shuffles, he gets it all out and the audience thinks it has the whole thing, punch line and all.

Maybe it's the story of the dentist who couldn't get out his patient's tooth until he invented a special instrument. Then he yanked and he hauled and finally the tooth came out with a rush, pulling the patient's whole skeleton right along with it. The audience laughs. Mr. Holbrook waits, possibly five seconds a long time in a theatrical performance—and then he says, had to carry him home in a pilla case." This is probably the surest device ever found for keeping an audience expectant and eager to hear what comes next.

There is a program for the evening, consisting of 27 selections, but it is subject, as Clemens' was to Mr. Holbrook's whim. About a dozen items were used on Saturday. It seems to me that in a way, to print a program which will be followed only in part. Members of the audience, glancing down the list, will see a favorite like "The Jumping Frog" and then be dis-

THE PLAYHOUSE

Pillow Talk (November 14-17) is a funny, highly improbable comedy about life among the young and underprivileged in New York. The stars are Doris Day and Rock Hudson who are attractive and bright, and the excellent supporting cast features Tony Randall, Thelma Ritter, Nick Adams and Julia Meade. The film is in CinemaScope and color.
The story revolves around the problems engendered by the fact that Miss Day, a rising interior decorator and Hudson, an apparently wealthy bachelor songwriter, share the same party-line telephone number. Why, with all the good things of life both of them seem to enjoy, neither of them thinks to install a private line is something best known to elves and Hollywood scriptwriters. It isn't just as well that they don't, for the complications which ensue are often hilarious.

Several unmemorable but pleasant songs have been supplied by Joe Lubin and I. J. Roth and there is some funny business about "Inspiration," a song Hudson warbles over the phone to each of his many girlfriends as if he had written it just for her.
Michael Gordon was responsible for the highly professional direction, recommended.

The Best of Everything (November 14-21) is a big Cinema-Scope and color adaptation of the best-seller by Ross Jaffe. The stars include Hope Lange, Stephen Boyd, Suzi Parker, Marthe
Hyer, Diane Baker, Brian Aherne, Louis Jourdan and Joan Crawford.

The plot quickly acquaints us with the fact that New York is a jungle and girls who go there to work as secretaries had better watch out or they'll have affairs.
Two, for 121 minutes, it shows us a cross-section of girls who have gone there to work as secretaries and haven't watched out.
We see old girls, middle-aged girls and young girls, single girls, married girls and divorced girls
—all having affairs. It is a convincing demonstration.

A few of the principals, notably Miss Lange, give their roles a depth of interpretation which is worthy of a much better picture.

THE GARDEN

Room 43 (November 10-14) dis-proves the contention that all the bed films come from Hollywood;
this one was made in London.
Starring Diana Dors, the picture starts from the unarguable premise that prostitution is no business for nice girls and labors it honorably for 48 minutes as though half the audience were expected to hold the opposite view.

Odile Versois, an innocent
French waitress, has been imported to England by forces of evil (Herbert Lom and Brenda De Banzie) and compelled to work in their brothels. So that she will be able legally to remain in London, Miss Versois is forced into a marriage with cab driver Eddie Constantine who is in debt to the forces of evil but is really a good guy deep down. He arranges to standee, who is in debt to the forces of evil but is really a good guy deep down. He arranges to free her, with the help of some other good guys (i. e., cab drivers) and the ensuing Miss Dors, whose fallen state hasn't tarnished her heart of gold. The film bears no Seal of Approval from the Production Code Administration, but it deserves worse punishment than that for making immortality dull.

There will be no matinee of "Room 43" on Saturday.
At 3 p.m., the Garden will present

CREAM OF THE FROST

From Seabrook Farms. Quality in frozen foods can be a variable thing, so it is our pleasure this week to report a line of vegetables so aristocratic and so fine that you'll want to serve them only on the family Spode.

Seabrook Farms introduces the vegetables to Princeton shoppers through Schafer's Market, 330 Nassau; Hill's Market, 35 Witherspoon; the Nassau Del on Palmer Square; and Royal Scarlet Stores, Nassau at Chestnut. Home base is the Penguin Frosted Food Company, 308 North of course, "North," grandmother: these are frozen foods, remember? Warren, Trenton.

In the line is a set of five frozen vegetables: Jumbo Asparagus Spears, Petite Peas, Whole Green Beans, Artichoke Hearts and Baby Brussels Sprouts.

All of these are picked when they are so young that they're scarcely out of the ground. The Jumbo asparagus falls to the knife early in the Spring when the plant sends up a few exceptionally large spears. These are not only tender, but pleasing to look at and they can be used attractively when you want a dish that is agreeable to the eye as well as to the taste.

The Petite Peas are young and tender, too, and picked so that they are uniform in color. How this is achieved, you'll have to find out from North Warren Street, Trenton.

The whole green beans were developed by Seabrook Farms and chosen from many tested varieties. The soil in which they grow is specially prepared and the harvesting machine gets to work at just the right time.

Artichokes for the artichoke hearts are harvested just before blooming, the outer leaves trimmed away and the tender heart exposed to Hollandaise or melted butter. The Brussels sprouts are exquisitely refined and in no way resemble small cabbages.

A Putter for Pros

The man who mumbles about his golf score might find that it improves considerably once he begins to use a sterling silver putter from LaVake-Reid's. Lack of it may have been the very thing that was wrong with his game, who knows?

This putter—no toy, mind you, but a standard size tool—has a silver shaft, bound with leather, and a solid sterling silver head. It costs $35 and should solve all your Christmas gift problems. One thing that bothers us, though, is where in the golf bag to put the silver polish.

ries by Peter Lauck, III, of Lawrenceville, who has lent his designing talents to the firm of Strohman and Rohnman.

There is an exceptional fringe in these designs, although most of them are modern in feeling. They have been designed chiefly for draperies or curtains although some can be used for slip-covers.

Traditionalists who have stopped right here, will want to see the chevron way in which Mr. Lauck has used medallions in a white-on-natural scrim, or the way he can project flame and its ruins with brush strokes that are almost like calligraphy.

His use of what seems to be paint is particularly unusual. He has taken a wide-mesh fabric that might be burlap, but isn't, and has applied paint thickly so that it fills the meshes in the screen. How this can ever be mass-produced is a mystery to us, but somebody apparently has solved the mystery because there the fabric is.

Many of Mr. Lauck's prints are done on natural linen, and many of them use casually drawn geometric figures in pleasing combination. For example, there is an off-white linen with shades of Delft blue in solid blocks or in outlines that suggest old pieces of tile. Arranged with these random squares are circles which turn out to be fruit slices, if you examine them closely. Delightful for a blue modern kitchen.

Incidentally, these prints come in several colors; we describe only those we saw in a full-sized sample swatch. Widths are really astonishing. Some of the sheer prints are 100 inches wide, and many of the prints are 50 and 60 inches. By "sheer," we mean an uneven, textured cotton or rayon, rather like burlap seen through a magnifying glass. There are no sheers of uniform weave, like daron or marquisette.

For a substantial linen, Mr. Lauck has chosen to arrange a row of frames, each one different, each about 8 by 10 inches. Inside one is a tree of life, inside another, a bowl of fruit and so on. You'll think of Pennsylvania Dutch, but the lines and the treatment are much more sophisticated. In another fabric, brush strokes of green are arranged in an abstract pattern against a white ground.

In one or two designs, Mr. Lauck has played the traditionalist and has produced closely woven fabrics with floral patterns at—Continued on Page 8

Anthony Adverse (November 10) is an adaptation of the well-known novel and stars Fredric March, Olive de Havilland, Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains and Anita Louise. It was picked as one of the 10 top films of 1936 (the year of "The Life of Louis Pasteur") in a Film Daily poll of more than 500 critics.

The Tailor's Maid (November 17-21) is a pleasant, warm-hearted comedy from Italy, which is aided by the presence of Vittorio DeSica in the starring role. Others in the cast include Riccardo Garrone, Loretta Delaura, Ruggero Marchi and Marcello Mastroianni.

DeSica is a master tailor whose son (Garrone) minds the store while Dad goes out with girls. DeSica's teenage daughter (Miss Delaura) falls in love with a schoolmate, who is the son of an old-fashioned doctor (Marchi). The doctor, who opposes the match, already has his hands full with his older son, who seems bent on violating several laws.

These and a couple of other domestic dilemmas are straightened out happily through the kindly intervention of DeSica. The picture is in Italian with English titles and was filmed in CinemaScope.

Masterpieces, Small Scale. Sheffield and Hitchcock hold open these days at The Silver Shop on Palmer Square, with room left over for Royal Copenhagen figurines, fine Limoges, Bavarian china and some ridiculous little Staffordshire flowers.

Hitchcock is represented by a child's chair, 100 years old, as husky as the day it was fitted together. It still has the original stencil, faintly visible in gold on its back. There is a cane seat, a curved front, and many a year of future usefulness in this delightful little piece of furniture.

From Sheffield comes a candle snuffer and tray, somewhat Victorian, but not too much so. The snuffer has a strong spring and

Losers Issue Statement

In a post-election statement, Township Democratic candidates Henry Eyer and Richard Frost characterize their victorious opponents as "fine people and able contenders."

"As everyone knows," the statement continues, "it's hard to take control of a Township where Republicanism outnumbered Democrats about 2-1 in registration. When this built-in majority runs excellent candidates as this year, the results are understandable."

"We would suggest that the Mayor and his party examine the tidbits for a very significant message. The Township Republican party vote was about 1000 as reflected by figures for Republican Freeholders and Assemblymen who were almost wholly unknown here in Princeton. At the same time the 'vote of confidence' in the current Township board—as reflected by the tally for its representatives, was considerably and significantly less."

"We intend, therefore, to press our campaign on into the ensuing year. If we contributed to a more flexible and imaginative approach to problems here, and we feel we did, we are delighted."

works very well. The tray works well, too.

A mahogany candle stand comes from an earlier period, when simplicity and Queen Anne were in vogue. It stands, almost without ornament, graceful as a lady's slipper.

At the rear of the shop, ranged formally behind the plate rail are one dozen flawless Bavarian service plates. They have a deep green border—somewhere between jade and lime—with heavy gold overlay and they are without chip or scratch.

Nearly are six Limoges dessert plates with touches of turquoise and occasional bouquets of little pink flowers.

Among the figurines are several Royal Copenhagen pieces, including a bulldog so realistic he almost snaps, a small, pale boy eating plums and a most engaging white mouse an inch and a half high with pink tail and feet. He's glossy, of course, but the sugar cubes on which he sits, nibbling are rough finish, just for realism.

Staffordshire flower arrangements stand about three inches high, brightly colored in a vase or low porcelain basket of bright green. An egg, five inches long and probably made originally for Easter, is oyster white all over except for the pale grey of two kissing rabbits. The egg is a box, of course, and comes apart lengthwise.

A similar shade of oyster white appears in a strange cream pitcher about four inches long and two inches deep. It has a butterfly for a handle and merely a shallow nose for a pouring lip and it once belonged to a tea set in Queen Alexandra's household. Paint white flowers outline the rim as it comes gently together to make the lip.

Harriet Arnold, who will take pictures of your family for Christmas presents, will come to Princeton any day from Thursday through Tuesday, not just weekends as stated in last week's "It's New to Us." WA 4-3762 is the number to call for appointment.

$100 REWARD OFFERED

For Missing Slides. A graduate student who lost three years of cancer research when his microscopic slides were stolen from the Vivarium building on College Road has offered at $100 reward for their return. Meanwhile, the FBI has entered the case to investigate a missing government-owned microscope, which was allegedly taken at the same time. Michael C. Kopliner, head university professor, said 500 slides, the property of Gerald Soffen, are believed to have been removed from the Vivarium on Saturday, October 31, between 5 and 7 P.M. At the same time, Kopliner said, the $485 microscope, being used by members of the biology department, was taken.

The slides are essential to the continuation of Mr. Soffen's Ph.D. thesis. Mr. Kopliner speculated that the slides may have been taken inadvertently when the thief failed to look into the cardboard box in which they were stored.

"A hundred dollars is nothing," Mr. Soffen said. "What would you pay for three years of your work?" Information concerning the missing slides can be given to Mr. Soffen at WA 1-6609, Ext. 428.

THREE ACCIDENTS OCCUR

In Township, Four teen-agers were injured slightly on Friday evening when the car in which they were riding left the road, went into a ditch and skidded into a culvert under a driveway.

Charles L. Rotolo, 17, of Skillman, was driving at 8:30 p.m. down The Great Road. He went off the right side of the road into a ditch, applied his brakes and skidded into a culvert under a driveway across The Great Road from Tenacre.

His passengers were Caroline Luciani, 17, and Madelen Luciani, 17, both of Fairview Road, Skillman, and Spyros P. Bubas, 18, Cold Soil Road, Lawrenceville. Police handed the driver a summons. All four were treated at Princeton Hospital and released. The bridge over Stony Brook on Mercer Road, collapsed another car this week. Randolph E. Bullock, 24, 17 Lytle, was driving west on Mercer at 7:45 p.m. when he hit the stone ramparts of the bridge. Mr. Bullock told Township police that a car came toward him over the bridge on his side of the road and that he struck the bridge when he jammed on his brakes and skidded.

David C. Delacour, 22, 15 Harris Road, owns a car which ran into difficulties with the police Friday night. Mr. Delacour parked on the east side of Harris Road but neglected to put on his emergency brake or to put his car in gear. At 9:58 p.m., the car rolled slowly north and crashed into a parked car belonging to Sergeant Anthony Nini, Township policeman, who lives at 22 Harris. Mr. Delacour received a summons.

HITS OFFICER'S CAR

At Police Headquarters, Jonathan D. Reed 3d, 30, of Cherry Valley Road, was charged by Borough police with driving while intoxicated early Sunday morning. They reported that a drunkometer test at Princeton Hospital showed an alcohol-breath of .23 percent, and Police Surgeon Mark H. Lund declared him unfit to operate a car.

Mr. Reed is also charged by police with having struck the parked car of Officer Charles R. Sperling in the Borough Hall driveway. Mrs. Albert C. Cornish, 462 Stockton Road, arrived at police headquarters at 1 a.m. Sunday to report that she had been followed from Hopewell to Princeton by a man whom she considered intoxicated.

While she was talking to Officer Sperling, Mr. Reed turned into the Borough Hall driveway and ran into the back of Officer Sperling's car. He was placed under arrest while still behind the wheel with the motor running and taken to Princeton Hospital for the drunkometer test.

Ball was set at $350, with a hearing before Magistrate Theodore T. Tams to follow. Police said the owner of the car is Gearhart Enterprises, a Nassau Street car-rental agency.

TWO DRIVERS FINED

In Township Court, charges of careless driving brought fines Tuesday night to Milton H. Thomas, 56, 6 Mercer Street, who paid $50, and Alon Rosenthal, 27, 402-B Devereux, who paid $20. Magistrate Louis R. Gerber heard the cases in Township court.

Magistrate Gerber also assessed $5 in court charges against Mrs. Hutchinson K. Fairman, 103 Mount Lucas Road. She was charged with violating the Board of Health ordinance which required her to connect her home to the public sewer.

In Borough Court, Henderson Smith, 57, Snowden Lane, was fined by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams for failing to yield the right of way at an intersection. Mr. Smith pleaded not guilty to the offense.

CARVER TOYS TICKET

As He Wins for Third Time. Revised election totals on last week's Township Committee race in Lawrence show that Lloyd A. Carver, Democratic incumbent, topped the ticket with 2,087 votes. It was his third successful campaign.

Mr. Carver's running mate, Charles E. Connell, was also elected, polling 2,595 votes. Totals for the Republican candidates were Clifford W. Snodgrass, 2,521, and Theodore P. Maple, 2,144.

Football Dance Planned

A football dance will be held for Princeton High School students Friday from 8 to 11:30 at the new YMCA on Avalon Place. Canteen dress rules will apply.

Cheerleaders will distribute free tickets during the half of the PHS-Ewing football game Thursday at Harris Field. The planning group in charge of the dance consists of Leon Venter, Martin Lombardo, Sue Musselman, Linda Drey and Patricia Lyons.

HITCHHIKER ROBBED

At Bayard and Stockton, Percy Martin, 46, 23 Ewing Street, a dishwasher at the Merwick Nursing Home, reported to Borough police that as he was trying to hitchhike a ride into Trenton from the corner of Bayard and Stockton, two men approached him, grabbed him, and said, "Give me all the money you have!" Martin said he turned over $13.15. The police are investigating the incident.

Police also report that a 1953 Pontiac, 4-door sedan was stolen November 3 from the rear of Foreign Cars Ltd., 388 Nassau Street. The car had no registration plates and is still missing.

Thanks From First Aid Squad

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I would like to express publicly the sincere thanks of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad for the fine cooperation shown towards our First Aid kit drive. Without the help of our many good friends, the success we achieved would not have been possible.

DORIS FASANELLA,
Publicity Chairman

Post-Election Statement.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

As the successful candidates for Township Committee in the recent election, we wish to express both our thanks and a pledge. First, we would like to thank our two opponents, Henry S. Dyer and Richard T. Frost, for the clean and constructive campaign which they waged against us. The contest between us brought forth sound and forward-looking programs by both parties. We would welcome continued activity by Mr. Dyer and Mr. Frost in the political and governmental affairs of this community.

Next, we wish to thank everyone who worked and who voted for us. Particularly appreciated is the unselfishness of many who devoted hours and days to the success of our campaign. We hope that the confidence shown in us by our supporters will be justified.

Finally, we pledge every effort to carry out the program which we have previously announced, and to work unceasingly for the best interests of Princeton.

AREA SCHOOLS HONORED.

By National Safety Council. For the second year in a row, the Valley Road and Littlebrook Schools have received a certificate of exceptional merit and have been placed on the National School Safety Honor Roll of the National Safety Council.

To earn such an honor, a school must present a detailed report of its safety program to a committee composed of the school principal, the president of the PTA, a student, a civic leader and the school's safety education supervisor. With the committee's approval, the NSC lists the school on the Honor Roll and sends it a certificate.

LIST OF SERVICES ISSUED

By Community Services Council. The seventh edition of the Index to Princeton Services has been issued by the Council of Community Services. The latest Index follows the pattern of previous editions, covering in detail the health and welfare, religious, educational and recreational facilities of the community.

Free copies of the 20-page booklet may be obtained at Princeton pharmacies and banks, at the public library or at Town Topics. The new edition was assembled under the general direction of Mrs. G. Dykeman Sterling, Elm Ridge Road.

For the first time, a brief description is given of each of the voluntary agencies and organizations providing health and welfare services in the area. Physicians and medical specialists are listed according to their specialty. Educational institutions, from nursery schools to the Institute for Advanced Study, are covered and their directors are listed. The Index is supported by dues from the 35 member organizations of the Council of Community Services. Mrs. Harold Sprout is president of the Council.

MUSIC
In Princeton
ONE MILLION FOR MUSIC
New Building Announced. A new $1,000,000 building for the music department at Princeton University has been planned for the area north of Palmer Physical Laboratory. Moore and Hutchesin, New York City architects, will design it.
The new structure will be designed to contain a two-story high rehearsal room large enough for a symphony orchestra, the University band or the Glee Club. There will be a recording studio, sound-proofed faculty offices, music listening rooms, lecture rooms, teaching studios and rooms for ensemble practice. Instrumental practice rooms will be constructed underground.
Funds for the building are being sought as part of Princeton's 453 million program. Founded by the late Prof. Emy D. Welch, the Music Department at Princeton will mark its 25th anniversary in 1952.

CLUBS WILL SING
Yale vs. Princeton. Competition by each, spiritual and college songs will be on the program this Friday when the Princeton and Yale Glee Clubs meet for a football concert in Alexander Hall. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will mark the first Princeton appearance of the Yale singers in two years.

A special feature of the program will be a performance of the choral square dance, "Stump Your Foot!" from the new opera, "The Tender Land" by Aaron Copland. Another feature will be "Bestiary Singulier," a work in praise of the Princeton Tiger composed by Walter Nollner, leader of the Princeton Glee Club. This work is repeated by request of those who heard the club sing it last year.

Fenno Heath, conductor of the Yale Glee Club, will be represented on the program by his "General William Booth Enters Into Heaven," with a text by Vachel Lindsay. Mr. Heath's arrangement of "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home" will also be included in the program.

Tickets are available from the University Store, from the University Glee Club, Clio Hall, or at the door the evening of the concert.

DYER-BENNETT TO SING
This Saturday, in McCarter. Well-known as a musician as well as a tenor and guitarist, Richard Dyer-Bennett will draw on a 700-song repertoire when he appears this Saturday for a concert in McCarter Theater. Tickets are available at the University Store and will be on sale at the theater Saturday night.

Mr. Dyer-Bennett once contemplated a career as a professional soccer player but decided to become a folk singer after he broke his nose in a game for San Francisco's Olympic Club. He made his folk-song debut in Town Hall in 1944.

MODERN WORKS REHEARSED
By Princeton Symphony. Two works by contemporary American composers will be featured Monday when the Princeton Symphony Orchestra gives the first concert of its 1950-51 season in McCarter Theater. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Nicholas Harsanyi, conductor, has built a program around Aaron Copland's Clarinet Concerto and Earl Kim's Diptychs for Piano and Orchestra. George M. Jones, faculty member of Princeton University and Douglass College music departments, will play the solo part in the Copland work and Mr. Kim will be at the piano in his own composition.

The Copland concerto was commissioned by Benny Goodman and is dedicated to him. Finished in 1944 in South America, it reflects elements of both north and south American music in its two movements.

Mr. Kim composed his diptychs this year on a commission from the Fromm Foundation. A resident of Hopewell, he is an assistant professor of music at Princeton.

The concert will open with Haydn's Symphony No. 92 and will close with Beethoven's Egmont Overture.

BALLADEER WILL SING
Indiscrete Songs Billed. Oscar Brand, billed as a singer of discrete and indiscrete songs, will sing some of them next Friday at 8 p.m. in Alexander Hall under the sponsorship of C-K Productions.
This will be the third Princeton engagement for the ballad singer who first attracted attention some years ago with his record, "Bawdy Songs and Backroom Ballads." He is known also for his presentations of the folksongs of many nations, and for this aspect of his work he has won high critical acclaim.
Tickets are available from C-K Productions, Box 591, Princeton.

WILL TEACH VOICE
Singer Operas Studio, Ruth Bent, who was seen last spring in Princeton in "Iolanthe," has announced the opening of a voice studio in her home at 440 Walnut Lane. She will take pupils from high school age up, depending on the maturity of the individual voice. Additional information may be obtained by calling WA 1-8758.
Mrs. Bent, who will teach serious music only, emphasizes technique, musicianship and diction in English, French, German and Italian.

A graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music in 1922, Mrs. Bent taught music on the Oberlin faculty for three years. She has sung in two Broadway productions, "The King and I" and "Can-Can" and has been in the chorus of Radio City Music Hall. In addition, she has had singing experience in church choirs, opera and oratorio and has sung on several television programs including Omnibus and the Perry Como and Sid Caesar shows.

Report from THE MAYOR

A United Effort. One of the early visitors to last week's "Tell It to the Mayor!" session was Ralph Mason, President of the Princeton United Community Fund. His mission was to review the progress of this vital community effort, to solicit the Mayor's contribution, and to seek co-operation in reminding Princeton residents of their responsibility and their privilege to share in reaching the important goal set for the campaign this year. Off to an inspiring start as 300 singers presented the outstanding United Festival of Song program, the United Fund has been vigorously pursuing its objective with the help of scores of volunteers who recognize that a real measure of the spirit of a town is to be found in its response to this drive.

The Spirit of Princeton. Throughout its history, Princeton has been fortunate to have had the continuing interest of her citizens and her local government in planning and building a town with rich traditions and with a physical beauty that is unequalled. Each new generation comes to respect this inheritance and to try to enhance it.

In the process, they come to realize that the spirit of a community involves much more than its physical setting. It is bound up in the attitudes of people toward each other and in the ways we act upon our belief that we are truly our brother's keeper, that we are interested in the happiness and the welfare of our fellow citizens.

One of the opportunities to demonstrate this concern is through the generous support of the Princeton United Community Fund campaign. All of us have many demands upon our time, our concern — and our money — but this is certainly a worthwhile campaign whose success these next few weeks will be watched by many as an indication of Princeton's real spirit.

On the Calendar. Among the items on last week's calendar: the monthly meeting of the Mercer County Traffic Safety Committee where an important agenda item is the clarification of municipal police authority on grounds of private or quasi-public institutions; a meeting with the Township Mayor and the Borough Engineer on some major problems of mutual interest; a constructive work session of Borough Council with key Borough staff in preparation for the regular business meeting; speaking before 75 municipal clerks (including Borough Clerk Mooney and Township Clerk Nini) as part of a two-day training session at Rutgers University; and attendance at a reception for the American Field Service students of 1950 (this year's exchange students are able and attractive from Switzerland, Italy and Argentina.)

Next week, the Mayor and various members of the Borough staff will be participating in meetings sponsored by the New Jersey League of Municipalities in Atlantic City.

Open House. The regular weekly "Tell It to the Mayor!" sessions will be held this Thursday, November 12, and next Friday, November 20, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings. If a question can be answered by telephone, just call WA4mt 4-3115.

DO IT YOURSELF!

... IT'S EASY TO WOOD PANEL ANY ROOM WITH

PRE-FINISHED PLANKWELD

Ready-to-Install WELDWOOD PLYWOOD

1 Start paneling in corner. Nail down edge of first panel at corner end.

2 Insert metal clip at the other edge groove. Nail clip to wall or stud.

3 Slip grooved edge of next panel into groove of first. Clip and nails are hidden.

Here is a beautiful wood paneling you can install yourself. Even if you aren't handy, you can panel a whole room in a few hours. And do a fine job, too.

Plankweld is Weldwood Plywood paneling. Faces are already finished — no painting or staining is needed. Panel edges are grooved to fit into each other; fastening is done with clips so nails do not show.

You can put Plankweld right over old walls — no turning or framing is needed. That's why Plankweld is such a wonderful material for remodeling. It's fine for new houses too. The panels are fastened directly to the studs.

By doing the job yourself you can panel any room you want to, and the whole cost will be the modest price of Plankweld alone.

And — here's something you'll be glad to know — Plankweld is guaranteed for the life of your house. No more repairs!

Come in to see Plankweld. We have it in fine hardwoods. See how easy it is — and how inexpensive — to wood panel any room in your house.

Plankweld is $\frac{1}{2}$ " thick, in easy-to-handle panels 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ " wide by 8 feet long.

THE MANSION

by William Faulkner

The chronicle of the Snopes family which began with The Hamlet (1940) and was extended in The Town (1957) is concluded with The Mansion, which, as a note by the author puts it, "is the final chapter of, and the summation of, a work conceived and begun in 1925." A complete novel in itself, it is one of Faulkner's greatest achievements.

YALE COMING TO TOWN

Serious Expected for Game. Despite the fact that both teams lost virtually all hope of a first place finish in the Ivy League when they were beaten last weekend, Yale and Princeton will meet Saturday before a crowd that may fill Palmer Stadium to its 46,000 capacity. The kickoff is set for 3:30.

Neither team is solid, but either one could become explosive on a given afternoon, particularly if fused with the desire for victory that has permeated Yale-Princeton meetings since the late years of the last century. Given a dry field, an advantage denied both eleven for the past three weeks, a high-scoring fray could develop—for the aura of defensive ability that each team earned during October has vanished.

Princeton, favored to defeat both Pennsylvania and Harvard before it became a decisive shut-out victim on both occasions, has in effect played only one good game this season against a well-regarded opponent. The Tigers trimmed Cornell, 20 to 0, on their best day of the 1960 campaign; other than that, they have beaten only Columbia, Colgate and Brown — each of which are tabbed with identical 1-6 records. Yale made headlines when it blanked its first five opponents, but on each of the last two weekends, it became apparent that the Elis had mostly soft touches at the outset. The Bulldogs also were impressive against Cornell, but their other four victims — Connecticut and the same trio that Princeton defeated, Columbia, Colgate and Brown — are all sub-par.

Game a Toss-Up. Although the sentimental pick in this community has to be Princeton, neither team should be given a point in the pre-game ratings. Both come into it as losers, both have the ability to take advantage of early breaks and run up a large score if the opposition falters. In the basic sense, victory will go to the team which wants it most.

Although Princeton will not quite be at full strength (wingback Mike Iseman remains sidelined with a shoulder injury and several others have missed considerable time because of varying ailments), neither team will be hurt Saturday by personnel problems. At New Haven, the injury list this year has been smaller than usual and the Bulldogs will come here with all hands ready for duty.

Yale Attack Varied. For the first time this season, Yale huddled against Penn Saturday with an end and a halfback flanked to either side and remaining there while quarterback Tom Singleton called the signals. That, plus a balanced attack that featured the running of Captain Rich Winkler and Lou Muller and Singleton's accurate passing, got the Elis away to a 12-0 lead over the Quakers.

tooms on an even footing, and made invalid the fact that the Tigers walked most of these players a year ago, 50 to 11.

It was in the Mud. Unfortunately, there is no reason for seeking solace in the belief that Princeton might have beaten Harvard on a dry field. It is true that seven fumbles and two costly center snaps would not have been duplicated under better conditions, but the fact remains that on a given day, the Crimson played better football than the Tigers and there is no reason to believe it would not have done so under sunny skies.

Princeton went nowhere throughout the long afternoon, hobnobbing its offensive drives with penalties and offside penalties that kept it from going beyond the victims' 22-yard line. Complicating the situation was a renewal of the erratic quarterbacking, which persistently sought to rack up yardage on key plays by calling wide end sweeps on a day when cutting in at the sidelines was as easy as running barfoot on a field of banana peels.

The first bad pass from center forced a short, hurried punt by Mike Ippolito that covered only 11 yards and gave Harvard possession on the Princeton 36. Harvard's Albie Culpey promptly went the distance, eluding two tacklers who had clear shots at him before he had gained five yards.

The Crimson missed its try for a two-point conversion, leaving Princeton very much in the ball game until the third quarter drew to a close. Another bad center snap in punt formation followed. Jack Sullivan losing the ball and Harvard's Charlie Ravenedroit skidding into it to halt it a good seven yards before he recovered on the Princeton five.

A touchdown and two-point conversion (via the only pass the winners threw in the second half) followed and the 14-0 deficit was beyond the Tigers' ability to erase. The lack of grass on the fields between the 25-yard lines and the cold, steady rain that fell throughout the contest made playing conditions abominable. In the final period, action was confined almost entirely to an area within 15 yards of midfield, and players tackled and tackled still two or three yards after contact.

LAST PHS GAME THURSDAY

County Title at Stake. Much will be at stake Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in Harris Field when the Little Tigers of Princeton High School oppose the Evening Blue Devils in their final game of the season.

Along with a PHS victory will go the mythical Brewster County Title—an honor it last held two years ago—and a 6-2-1 winning season. Ewing, for its part, will be trying to equal his best season in its school's history.

Each team enters Thursday's contest under similar circumstances. Both have identical 1-2-1 records; both are in the process of bettering mediocre records of the year before.

Both are flush with hard-earned triumphs over teams that had beaten them badly last fall; Ewing upset Moorestown last week, 12-6, to avenge for a 21-13 paunting the Quakers had administered to them in '88; the Little Tigers halted Long Branch Nov. 24, 12-0, a team to which it had suffered its fourth straight loss last year, 21-6.

TOUCHDOWN! Ridge Applegate, Princeton High School end, makes fine over-the-shoulder catch of an end-zone pass from Jack Hawkins for first TD in Monday's victory over Long Branch. (Richards Photo)

The Little Tigers played their best game of the year in upending the powerful invaders from Long Branch. The passing of Jack Hawkins, the accurate place kicking of Howard Gould, and a strong team desire to win added up to a hard-earned, well-deserved victory. No one could argue with PHS coach, Joe Jingshi's comment, "The boys deserve all the credit—they played a tremendous game."

PIHS in Hole at Start. The home team started inauspiciously enough, fumbling away the ball on its own 23 on the third play of the game. Princeton held, but moments later Long Branch ran a Hawkins punt back to the PHS 32. Two plays later, quarterback Howey Nowler, with some expert deceptive faking, passed to halfback Jim Neuman all alone in the end zone for a 27-yard scoring play. The try for extra point was blocked, but it appeared that Coach Army Ippolito's eleven was going to roll up the score again this year.

A costly visitor penalty led to Princeton High's first touchdown. Back to punt on the Green Wave 10, Hawkins was roughed and, instead of losing the ball, the Little Tigers had it, first and ten, on the Long Branch 25. Hawkins got five in the 20 and then, on the last play of the second quarter, hit end Ridge Applegate in the end zone. Applegate making a fine over-the-shoulder catch, Gould's PAT put PHS in front, 7-6.

AT LEAST THREE TOUCHDOWNS: That is the margin by which "Old Tiger" Lewis Robeson predicts Princeton will beat Yale this Saturday. The Old Tiger has been a part of the Princeton scene for 63 years and claims that Princeton coaches Keene Fitzpatrick and Bill Rorer used to rub his head for good luck. To learn how many other Princetonians share his optimism, see below (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will win the Princeton-Yale game and by what score?

Location: Around town.

H. C. Sturhahn, The Great Road president of the Princeton Agency and former Yale football captain: I hope that Yale will win, naturally. I couldn't guess on the score—I don't think anyone can guess the outcome of today's scores. The Ivy League is great this year because the teams are so evenly matched. Princeton has a good team this season but Yale has a better team than it did last fall. So it would be a better game this year than last, when Yale was so outclassed.

John T. Huddleson, Franklin Avenue, Pennington, market research director: I'd be very much in error if I didn't pick Princeton just as matter of loyalty to my alma mater. However, I've never been very good at picking scores so I'd rather not go out on a limb this time in trying to predict the outcome.

Merrill Knapp, Rosedale Lane, music professor at Princeton and Yale alumnus: I can answer that in just two words—a toss-up.

Lewis Robeson, 13 Green Street, "Old Tiger" bootblack: I think Princeton will beat Yale by at least three touchdowns because Princeton should be at full strength against Yale. The Princeton backs should run wild against Yale. I think they beat them last year, 20-14, and Yale has the same team back this year.

John Jackson, Main Street, Kingston, parking meter mechanic: I think Yale is due to win this year. The score'll be about 7-6. No big reason why Yale will win, it's just a hunch.

Walter P. Hall, Elm Road, Princeton Professor emeritus and Yale Class of 1906: Of course Yale will win, 8-0. This prophecy is based on a painstaking study of both teams this fall.

Homer R. Zink, 146 Linden Lane, lawyer: I think Princeton will win by a 17-0 score. My answer is mostly emotional—I hope they'll win. If all the Princeton players are up, I think they should win.

Arnold Jacobs, Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck: I think Yale will win by two touchdowns because Princeton doesn't have a coordinated attacking team. They have good individual players, but, in the pinch, the coach takes over from the bench. They haven't developed a really good thinking quarterback. Too much panic is displayed, both by the team and

Who Will Win?

One of the toughest college football games to forecast is the annual Princeton-Yale meeting, which will have its biennial production in Palmer Stadium on Saturday. The nation's longest consecutive gridiron rivalry is studded with upsets, and those who go out on a limb seeking to name the winner are often left hanging.

In the past quarter century, for example, there have been such form reversals as Yale's "iron-man" 7-0 victory in 1934; Princeton's 17-0 conquest in 1947 of much the same Eli personnel that had trounced the Tigers, 20 to 2, a year earlier; the Elsie cliff-hanger that meant a 26-24 triumph in the last 42 seconds in 1953; and Princeton's revenge in the Bowl a year later, when Royce Flippin got the last of his three touchdowns with just 17 seconds left on the clock to give the Tigers a 21-14 triumph.

Only sure thing this year is that all the football fans TOWN Topics asked to predict the outcome can't be wrong, as their selections are anything but unanimous. We take it back—one no one picked a tie!

from the bench. An example of this is all the field goal attempts this year. It shows a breakdown under pressure.

Henry E. Warren, 99 Jefferson Road, retired: I'm scared to death of it. I think Yale will win it by about 12-0. I don't think Princeton is up to par. Too much individual stuff this year.

Calvin Mittman, 15 Dickinson, graduate student, mathematics: I expect Yale to win by probably 21-0. I don't think Princeton has made such a good showing so far. Also the fact the Yale won't even score on until its sixth game leads me to this decision.

Howard Graham, 111 Birch Avenue, assistant section at Trinity Church: I think Princeton will beat them by eight points. Princeton has a little more class than Yale, although Yale has a good start this year. I just hope Princeton wins.

Delos "Dutch" Schoch, Ridgeview Road, Princeton crew coach. I think Princeton will win by one touchdown. The Dartmouth result showed that Yale hadn't tangled with the better Ivy League clubs as yet. I think it will be a terrific ball game.

Uli Knoepfmueller, 219-D Halsey Street, English literature graduate student: I frankly think that Yale is going to win by a small margin, probably three to six points. I think that Yale's record shows that it can come up with a surprise while Princeton has been fairly consistent. If you go by comparative scores, George L. Pierre, 49 Markham Road, retired: I predict that Princeton will beat Yale, 20-7. I think Princeton is just that much better than Yale.

attered on the PHS three-yard line in the last minute of the first half, Long Branch scored back to back in the first ten plays of the second half and take the lead in its 55-yard drive, the Green Wave racked up four straight first downs with fullback Frank Deshpri, who did most of the gaining, hanging over from the one. His try for extra point was wide. Princeton High needed only half back many plays to bounce right back and march 81 yards in five plays to score. Hawkins handled the half four of the five times en route to the TD, passing once to Applegate for 13 yards and again to Russ Perone who caught the ball on the 20 and outmarched his defender down the sidelines to score standing up. That put the Little Tigers ahead 13-12 and Gould once more kicked the extra point.

Much time remained, however, and the big Long Branch squad caught its breath and started out once again to drive its way mechanically toward the PHS goal. Two first downs in so many plays put the visitors on the Little Tiger 35. The break ended when Hawkins intercepted a Moser pass on his own 20.

Ken Reed Recovers Fumble. With about three minutes remaining, Long Branch started a do-or-die drive from its own 46. Gains and a 15-yard PHS penalty carried it to the Blue and White 28. On the next play Ken Reed recovered a Long Branch fumble to close the door on its last scoring opportunity.

PCD WINS ONE, DROPS TWO

Topk Poddie a Second Time. A four-hour period goal by center half Pete Kirkpatrick gave the Princeton Country Day School soccer team its second victory this year over the Peddie Juniors Monday afternoon. Bob Leventhal, inside right, got the Blue and White's first goal early in the opening period, the losers deadlocking the game in the third quarter before Kirkpatrick's high shot found the upper corner of the goal.

Last week, Lawrence Junior High topped Country Day, 3-1 and Valley Road registered a 2-0 triumph. Larry Kuser scored for the losers in the first game.

The PCD football team rallied to earn a 13-all tie last week with Salebury of New Hope, Pa. Randy Hobbler took an end zone pass from Pepper Pettit for the first Blue and White TD, Pettit adding the conversion.

After Salebury had taken a 13-7 lead in the second half, Pettit crossed the goal line to tie the game. Country Day will travel to meet Hingry on Friday, hoping to avenge an October loss against this opponent.

BOWLING NOTES

Citelli Paces "B" League. Citelli Electric, knotted last week with Walker Gordon, posted four victories this week to take sole possession of the lead in the "B" League at Princeton Recreation Center. Citelli has 34 victories, while Walker Gordon has 36 and third-place Jefferson Plumbing, 34.

In the Mixed League, Rose (18) and Kleiber (16) are out in front, with Friel, Sculerati and Wheeler deadlocked for third place with 10 triumphs apiece. The Women's Industrial race continues drum-tight, with Citelli Electric and Furagat Country Club tied at 58-all and Nassau Service, trailing with 52 wins. Cranbury Bank (50) is eight games ahead of Emens & McVaugh (42) in the Women's League.

Insurance

Cornelia and Joe Weller are pleased to announce a reorganization of their business activities. G. R. Murray, Inc. will continue to operate insurance-wise as in the past. A new corporation is being formed under the name of CORNELIA WELLER REAL ESTATE which will handle our Real Estate business. The two corporations will be separate; however, both the location and personnel will remain the same.

We can foresee no changes in our relations with our clients and customers. Our two corporations will be closely associated. The separation of the business into a Real Estate enterprise and a separate Insurance enterprise appears to offer not only efficiencies and economies, but also opportunities to improve our services.
